

THG Fluently Introduces Cutting-Edge Secure Machine Translation Portal for Seamless Communication

London, May 20, 2024 — THG Fluently, a leading language services provider, is thrilled to announce the upcoming launch of its innovative secure machine translation portal. Designed to revolutionize cross-cultural communication, this enables users to leverage state-of-the-art translation technologies through a simple and intuitive interface.

Key Features:

1. Machine Translation Portal:

- Our new secure portal leverages advanced models to provide accurate and efficient translations across multiple languages. Whether you're a business expanding globally or an individual seeking seamless communication, THG Fluently's portal ensures clarity and precision.

2. Free Trial Offer:

- As a special offer to BritishAmerican Business Association members, we're providing a free trial of 10,000 words. Experience the power of our machine translation firsthand and witness how it streamlines your communication needs.

3. Beyond the Portal: Post-Human Editing:

- At THG Fluently, we understand that quality matters. Beyond automated translations, our team of skilled editors can ensure that your content is polished and contextually accurate. Our post-human editing service bridges the gap between technology and human touch.

4. Certified Human Translation and Interpreting:

- While our machine translation portal is cutting-edge, we recognize that some situations demand the finesse of human linguists. THG Fluently offers fully certified human translation and interpreting services for legal documents, medical records, business meetings, and more.

About THG Fluently: THG Fluently has been at the forefront of language solutions for over a decade. Our commitment to excellence, innovation, and client satisfaction drives us to create tools that break down language barriers.
