

Inflation Reduction Act: Green protectionism or growth boost?

We are delighted to welcome you to a discussion with Chad Bown from the Peterson Institute, Washington, where we will go through the recent US and EU green fiscal policies (IRA, Green Deal, etc).

Chad Bown is one of the US's leading experts on foreign trade issues. This virtual event will be hosted in Teams, but all listeners are welcome to ask questions in what promises to be a highly interesting afternoon, as we discuss whether the Inflation Reduction Act represents a green transition, protectionism or a bit of both.

We look forward to welcoming you!

Mattias Sundling - Chief Equity Strategist
Josefin Johansson - Sector Head, Sustainability
